ASP, Inc.
Docket no. 030-36779
Mail Control no. 022468

Good afternoon Terry,

I left a voice message on your cell phone earlier today regarding a few clarifications that I need related to your deficiency response dated March 7, 2005 and application dated December 10, 2004. I am listing the additional questions that I have below. There is no need to submit a written response. You may just give me a call and we can discuss over the phone.

1. The diagram that you submitted in response no. 3 for the P6502 model seems to be the same as the diagram for the P6500 model, titled "Model P6500 engravings on back of watches", submitted with your application dated December 10, 2004. However, the subsequent diagram in the December 10, 2004 application, titled "Model P6502 engravings on back of watches" seems different than the diagram to response no. 3. Could you please clarify the discrepancy between the diagrams.
2. In regards to response no. 3, ISO 9002 seems to be a generic Quality Management Systems standard that applies to various types of organizations and products. Please indicate what particular quality assurance standard the manufacturer will use for the manufacture of timepieces.
3. For your information, on the second page to the text of your application dated December 10, 2004, you state that records of transfers shall be maintained as required by 10 CFR 32.25. Since you have applied for a license under 10 CFR 32.14, the actual records and reporting requirements that would apply to you are 10 CFR 32.16, rather than 10 CFR 32.25.

Sincerely,
