The call just ended. As it turns out, all we discussed were process issues, what info we have, what additional info is needed from the CI, who calls who when, what orgs need to be involved, what documentation is needed, and how we should proceed in light of the plant's scheduled start up on Wednesday. Unless Harold contacts you, we're ok until Tuesday.

Harold:

Bill Koo and I tried to get onto your bridge but it was full. Your organization did not know where the meeting was, so we couldn't track you down to attend in person. When you reschedule, let us know where it's at.

Thanks,

Tim
