RE: Larry Handlin, MD

To Whom It May Concern:

Dr. Larry Handlin is a Cardiologist who trained with us here at Cardiovascular Consultants at the Mid America Heart Institute - Saint Luke's Hospital/University of Missouri - Kansas City. He was in our training program from 1990 - 1994. We worked closely with him in the nuclear cardiology laboratory for approximately 6 months. He spent approximately 1,000 hours training in our nuclear laboratory. He participated in the acquisition and interpretation of approximately 1,500 stress nuclear cardiac tests during that time.

Dr. Handlin performed these duties competently and I have no reservations at the adequacy of his clinical training in nuclear cardiology.

Sincerely,

James H. O'Keefe, MD
Professor of Medicine - University of Missouri-Kansas City Medical School
Cardiologist - Cardiovascular Consultants, P.C.
Director, Preventive Cardiology Fellowship Program - Mid America Heart Institute

Dear Dr. Tillman,

This letter is in regard to the qualifications Larry Handlin, M.D. to apply for "qualified user" status under your Nuclear Regulatory Commission radioactive materials license. In my previous position in Kansas City, I was Radiation Safety Officer for St. Lukes Hospital (NRC License Number 24-00889-01) and Clinical Professor of Radiology at UMKC, in charge of Resident physics instruction. Dr. Handlin attended the entire physics course that I taught to Radiology and Cardiology Residents and Fellows. As a consequence of his attendance and participation in this training, Dr. Handlin has received 200 hrs of classroom and laboratory training as described in 10CFR35.920. As such, it is my opinion that, upon receiving confirmation of his clinical training and experience ("preceptor statement"), Dr. Handlin should receive approval for radioisotopes described in 10CFR35.200. It has been our practice at St. Lukes Hospital to limit approval for group 200 radiopharmaceuticals for cardiologists to only those used in cardiac imaging studies.

Should you need any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely Yours,

Marc Edwards, Ph.D.
Certified Radiological Physicist
