Dear Mr. Gore,

We have received your June 28, 2005 correction to the transcript of the April 19, 2005 public meeting concerning the review of the Exelon early site permit review. That public meeting was held to solicit comments from members of the public on the draft environmental impact statement (EIS) regarding the Exelon early site permit application.

We will be treating your correction during our assessment of the comments that we have received on the draft EIS, and will address the corrected comment in the final EIS. As a matter of practice, we do not reissue transcripts with speaker corrections as they are not "testimony" to the proceedings, but rather comments to be treated in the final EIS. As you are on the Exelon ESP service list, we will forward you a copy of the final EIS, where you can review the corrected comment and our response.

Dear NRC,

I spoke at the April 19, 2005 public meeting and recently reviewed the official transcript. While several parts don't exactly match my recollection, there is clearly one significant transcript error.

I am absolutely certain I was pointing out various alternatives that were NOT considered in the draft EIS. This is a legal issue because the EIS is required to consider alternatives, which is exactly why I mentioned a number of alternatives that were not considered.

Page 109, line 24 should read: "Some other alternatives that were not considered." The word "not" is missing in the official transcript

Please let me know when my testimony is corrected on the official transcript.

Sincerely,
George Gore
