Pete,

The subject standard is now available to the public. In your May 23, 2005, response to NRC's RAls, (#6 of Enclosure 2 to AET 05-0037), you indicated that you will review the revision and "give due consideration to adoption of this version...." Please consider adopting this current revision to the IEEE standard as the revision more accurately reflects the industry's (and the agency's) process for conducting HFE. You can obtain the document via the internet (<http://standards.ieee.org>), searching on key word, "human factors" to obtain the following details:

Revision of IEEE Std 1023-1988

This document provides recommended practices for applying human factors engineering (HFE) to systems and equipment that have significant human interfaces in nuclear power generating stations and other nuclear facilities.
