Request for Withholding of Proprietary Information from Public Disclosure

Reference: Letter from NMC to NRC dated September 7, 2005 (NRC 2005-0117)

In the referenced letter, Nuclear Management Company, LLC (NMC), provided a non-proprietary version of the certified material test reports (CMTRs) for the Point Beach Unit 2 reactor vessel. The proprietary version had been previously submitted to the NRC. Also provided in Reference 1 were both proprietary and non-proprietary versions of Westinghouse reports, "Point Beach Unit 1, Cycle 29 – Reactor Vessel Upper Closure Head Volume Best-Estimate Mean Fluid Temperature", dated August 30, 2005, (Proprietary) and "Point Beach Unit 1, Cycle 29 – Reactor Vessel Upper Closure Head Volume Best-Estimate Mean Fluid Temperature", dated August 30, 2005 (Non-proprietary).

Westinghouse has subsequently evaluated the information in these documents and concluded that some of the information that had been marked as proprietary did not meet the criteria for withholding from the public. Therefore, Westinghouse has revised these documents to appropriately identify the information that requires withholding.

Enclosure 1 to this letter provides reissued proprietary and non-proprietary versions of the Westinghouse CMTRs. Also provided in Enclosure 1 are a Westinghouse authorization letter, accompanying affidavit, Proprietary Information Notice and Copyright Notice for the reissued reports.

Enclosure 2 provides revised Westinghouse Report WEP-05-168, Revision 1-NP, "Point Beach Unit 1, Cycle 29 – Reactor Vessel Upper Closure Head Volume Best-Estimate Mean Fluid Temperature", dated June 20, 2005, (Non-proprietary).

Since the document listed above as Proprietary contains information proprietary to Westinghouse Electric Company, it is supported by an affidavit signed by Westinghouse, the owner of the information. The affidavit sets forth the basis on which the information may be withheld from public disclosure by the Commission and addresses with specificity, for each, the considerations listed in paragraph (b)(4) of Section 2.390 of the Commission's regulations.

Accordingly, it is respectfully requested that the information, which is proprietary to Westinghouse, be withheld from public disclosure in accordance with 10 CFR 2.390.

Correspondence with respect to the copyright or proprietary aspects of the above documents, or the supporting Westinghouse affidavit, should reference the appropriate authorization letter (CAW-05-2066) and be addressed to B. F. Maurer, Acting Manager of Regulatory Compliance and Plant Licensing, Westinghouse Electric Company, P.O. Box 355, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15230-0355.

This letter contains no new commitments and no revisions to existing commitments.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on November 18, 2005.

- (1) I am Acting Manager, Regulatory Compliance and Plant Licensing, in Nuclear Services, Westinghouse Electric Company LLC (Westinghouse), and as such, I have been specifically delegated the function of reviewing the proprietary information sought to be withheld from public disclosure in connection with nuclear power plant licensing and rule making proceedings, and am authorized to apply for its withholding on behalf of Westinghouse.
- (2) I am making this Affidavit in conformance with the provisions of 10 CFR Section 2.390 of the Commission's regulations and in conjunction with the Westinghouse "Application for Withholding" accompanying this Affidavit.
- (3) I have personal knowledge of the criteria and procedures utilized by Westinghouse in designating information as a trade secret, privileged or as confidential commercial or financial information.
- (4) Pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b)(4) of Section 2.390 of the Commission's regulations, the following is furnished for consideration by the Commission in determining whether the information sought to be withheld from public disclosure should be withheld.
 - (i) The information sought to be withheld from public disclosure is owned and has been held in confidence by Westinghouse.
 - (ii) The information is of a type customarily held in confidence by Westinghouse and not customarily disclosed to the public. Westinghouse has a rational basis for determining the types of information customarily held in confidence by it and, in that connection, utilizes a system to determine when and whether to hold certain types of information in confidence. The application of that system and the substance of that system constitutes Westinghouse policy and provides the rational basis required.

Under that system, information is held in confidence if it falls in one or more of several types, the release of which might result in the loss of an existing or potential competitive advantage, as follows:

- (a) The information reveals the distinguishing aspects of a process (or component, structure, tool, method, etc.) where prevention of its use by any of Westinghouse's competitors without license from Westinghouse constitutes a competitive economic advantage over other companies.

- (b) It consists of supporting data, including test data, relative to a process (or component, structure, tool, method, etc.), the application of which data secures a competitive economic advantage, e.g., by optimization or improved marketability.
- (c) Its use by a competitor would reduce his expenditure of resources or improve his competitive position in the design, manufacture, shipment, installation, assurance of quality, or licensing a similar product.
- (d) It reveals cost or price information, production capacities, budget levels, or commercial strategies of Westinghouse, its customers or suppliers.
- (e) It reveals aspects of past, present, or future Westinghouse or customer funded development plans and programs of potential commercial value to Westinghouse.
- (f) It contains patentable ideas, for which patent protection may be desirable.

There are sound policy reasons behind the Westinghouse system which include the following:

- (a) The use of such information by Westinghouse gives Westinghouse a competitive advantage over its competitors. It is, therefore, withheld from disclosure to protect the Westinghouse competitive position.
- (b) It is information that is marketable in many ways. The extent to which such information is available to competitors diminishes the Westinghouse ability to sell products and services involving the use of the information.
- (c) Use by our competitor would put Westinghouse at a competitive disadvantage by reducing his expenditure of resources at our expense.
- (d) Each component of proprietary information pertinent to a particular competitive advantage is potentially as valuable as the total competitive advantage. If competitors acquire components of proprietary information, any one component may be the key to the entire puzzle, thereby depriving Westinghouse of a competitive advantage.

- (e) Unrestricted disclosure would jeopardize the position of prominence of Westinghouse in the world market, and thereby give a market advantage to the competition of those countries.
 - (f) The Westinghouse capacity to invest corporate assets in research and development depends upon the success in obtaining and maintaining a competitive advantage.
- (iii) The information is being transmitted to the Commission in confidence and, under the provisions of 10 CFR Section 2.390, it is to be received in confidence by the Commission.
 - (iv) The information sought to be protected is not available in public sources or available information has not been previously employed in the same original manner or method to the best of our knowledge and belief.
 - (v) The proprietary information sought to be withheld in this submittal is that which is appropriately marked in WEP-05-318 P-Attachment, "Point Beach Unit 2 Reactor Vessel CMTRs" (Proprietary). The information is provided in support of a submittal to the Commission, being transmitted by Nuclear Management Company letter and Application for Withholding Proprietary Information from Public Disclosure, to the Document Control Desk. The proprietary information as submitted for use by Westinghouse for Point Beach Unit 2 contains design information that is proprietary to Westinghouse and is provided in response to certain NRC requirements for justification of reactor vessel head drop analyses.

This information is part of that which will enable Westinghouse to:

- (a) Show that a postulated drop of the replacement reactor vessel closure head would produce impact forces at the vessel supports that are no greater than those calculated for the original vessel head, accounting for the different weights of new replacement reactor vessel head and head assembly upgrade packages.
- (b) Assist the customer to obtain NRC approval.

Further this information has substantial commercial value as follows:

- (a) Westinghouse plans to sell the use of similar information to its customers for purposes of meeting NRC requirements for licensing documentation.

- (b) Westinghouse can sell support and defense of this information to its customers in the licensing process.

Public disclosure of this proprietary information is likely to cause substantial harm to the competitive position of Westinghouse because it would enhance the ability of competitors to provide similar licensing support documentation and licensing defense services for commercial power reactors without commensurate expenses. Also, public disclosure of the information would enable others to use the information to meet NRC requirements for licensing documentation without purchasing the right to use the information.

The development of the technology described in part by the information is the result of applying the results of many years of experience in an intensive Westinghouse effort and the expenditure of a considerable sum of money.

In order for competitors of Westinghouse to duplicate this information, similar technical programs would have to be performed and a significant manpower effort, having the requisite talent and experience, would have to be expended.

Further the deponent sayeth not.
