Submittal of Test Matrix in Support of EPR CHF Correlation Topical Report

Framatome ANP (FANP) is providing the attached material for use by the NRC in preparation for a conference call between FANP and the NRC on February 15, 2006 at 10:00 a.m. This material is provided so that the NRC staff has an opportunity in advance to review the information and thus be better prepared to engage in discussions during the conference call.

Attachment A contains the test matrix and test range coverage for discussion in support of FANP submittal of the EPR CHF correlation topical report, which is planned for December 2006.

Framatome ANP considers some of the material contained in the enclosed attachment to be proprietary. As required by 10 CFR 2.390(b), an affidavit is enclosed to support the withholding of the information from public disclosure.

Sincerely,

6. The following criteria are customarily applied by FANP to determine whether information should be classified as proprietary:

- (a) The information reveals details of FANP's research and development plans and programs or their results.
- (b) Use of the information by a competitor would permit the competitor to significantly reduce its expenditures, in time or resources, to design, produce, or market a similar product or service.
- (c) The information includes test data or analytical techniques concerning a process, methodology, or component, the application of which results in a competitive advantage for FANP.
- (d) The information reveals certain distinguishing aspects of a process, methodology, or component, the exclusive use of which provides a competitive advantage for FANP in product optimization or marketability.
- (e) The information is vital to a competitive advantage held by FANP, would be helpful to competitors to FANP, and would likely cause substantial harm to the competitive position of FANP.

7. In accordance with FANP's policies governing the protection and control of information, proprietary information contained in this Document has been made available, on a limited basis, to others outside FANP only as required and under suitable agreement providing for nondisclosure and limited use of the information.

8. FANP policy requires that proprietary information be kept in a secured file or area and distributed on a need-to-know basis.
