Subject: PARTICIPANTS IN THE LSS ADVISORY REVIEW PANEL DISCUSSIONS

To Participants in LSS Advisory Review Panel Discussions:

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission will soon be publishing the attached announcement of the availability of a computer-based communications program called "LSSNet" to maximize the interaction between the NRC, the LSS Advisory Review Panel, and the public on rulemaking issues related to the Licensing Support System. Many features of the rule first adopted in 1988 no longer provide optimal approaches to electronic information management. This topic was a primary discussion item at the May 3, 1996, meeting of the Panel. LSSNet will allow the LSS Advisory Review Panel, other potential users of the LSS, and the public to communicate both with the NRC and among themselves, with a view toward defining LSS rulemaking issues, identifying alternatives to address those issues, and determining the extent of agreement on those alternatives.

LSSNet is now available and may be accessed with the Uniform Resource Locator <http://lssnet.llnl.gov>.

Although the site is open to the public, messages can only be left in LSSNet Caucus Areas by the individuals listed below who must use the password "webster". Access to LSSNet voting areas will be provided at a later date.

This notice is being sent to those who have participated on the LSS Advisory Panel for whom we have e-mail addresses. We will also be notifying those who do not currently have e-mail addresses by regular mail and will add participants to the e-mail list when provided with addresses.

For technical information, contact John C. Voglewede, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555-0001, telephone (301) 415-7415, E-mail - "JCV@NRC.GOV"
