MEMORANDUM TO: Farouk Eltawila, Director
Risk Assessment and Special Projects
Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research

FROM: Christopher I. Grimes, Director /RA/
Division of Policy and Rulemaking
Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation

SUBJECT: DRAFT REPORT "EVALUATION OF HUMAN RELIABILITY ANALYSIS METHODS AGAINST GOOD PRACTICES"

Purpose

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide you with a status of the review comment effort by the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation (NRR) on the document identified above.

Background

The draft report, "Evaluation of Human Reliability Analysis Methods Against Good Practices," was informally transmitted to Gareth Parry (NRR Senior Level Advisor for Probabilistic Risk Assessment) in late 2005 for review and comment. In response to the request, Gareth provided comments to the Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research (RES), which were subsequently incorporated into the document. During the comment process, Gareth recommended that a broader review of the document may be beneficial. Following the submission of his comments to RES and incorporation of same into the document, RES re-transmitted the document in January of 2006, to a wider audience for review and comment by February 28, 2006.

Status and Next Steps

NRR appreciates the opportunity to comment on the document but has decided to defer comment on the document at this time. We recognize that there will be an opportunity to provide additional comments during the public comment period. We plan to review the document during the public comment period and provide additional comments if warranted.
