I would like to renew my allegation that NRC and State of New Mexico officials are ignoring high winds we have in this area to expedite the licensing of the LES enrichment plant.. When the wind blows in this area it moves the dirt around in what we call a sandstorm. Below is a picture of one.

To allow a Louisiana Energy Services uranium enrichment plant to emit radioactive emissions into an dust filled environment such as this has to be a danger to the public health.

Ive asked NRC and state of New Mexico what they consider a high wind by government standards and received no reply. I did add this to the last 2 dozen emails I sent to insurance companies as a public service.
