Hello Tony,

I believe I mistakenly told you the facility name that would be seeking a clearance amendment to license was E & MC.

Evidently, I was a bit dyslexic, the facility name is Materials & Energy Corporation (M & EC), owned by Perma-Fix, Inc., from Gainesville, FL. The license is at the East Tennessee Technology Park (ETTP), formerly part of the K-25 complex in Oak Ridge. They are currently processing mixed waste streams and treating the materials for organics. The radioactive component has been minimal so far. Their RSO, Eric Miller, indicated to me during their last inspection in March of this year, they would be eventually applying for clearance authorization when they begin processing more rad waste. The facility is also referred to as East Tennessee Waste Treatment Center (ETWTC) on vendor forms and uniform waste manifests from DOE. I just wanted to correct my data supplied to you.

Additionally, please excuse my stupor from Thursday evening, as my younger brother and I have not seen each other in quite a while and the possibility of war seems more imminent so we had a little fun. Since you asked, here's a recipe for the BBQ sauce you inquired about:

(scale accordingly to the amount desired)

16 oz. Heinz ketchup
1 ½ cups brown sugar
¾ cup balsamic vinegar
3 Tbsp. Onion powder
3 Tbsp. Louisiana hot sauce
1 fresh squeezed lemon
3 oz. Worcestershire
(1 shot of bourbon optional)
½ cup of "shake" , the shake has Paprika, Chili powder, garlic powder, salt, and cayenne (in amounts that are top secret)

Enjoy!
