Once we have made the collective decision that this alleged is a "widely known alleged" on the issue discussed in the statement, I would agree we could make this correspondence publically available on ADAMS if requested. But, unless, I missed that discussion while in Canada this week, I didn't think we had yet reached that conclusion. Last we spoke, we were waiting to see the statement and learn more about the event where it was made. Was the event well attended? Was there media coverage? I'll follow-up with Dave V. and Carl M.

I agree with Randy's approach. If the CI has sent us a copy of the speech and requested that we post it, I'd make it publically available in ADAMS. But I wouldn't post it on the NRC web page unless we had a venue already established (or we decide to establish one later) where this would be pertinent dialogue on the issue(s).

Randy,

We had one similar situation and we simply incorporated the alleged's correspondence into ADAMS and made it publically available. Brent Clayton in Region III or Lisamarie Jarriel in HQ/OE are your best points of contact. Handle this carefully because this is outside normal allegation practice, but it is permitted and has occurred. I would not recommend putting anything on a web site regarding an allegation.

If I can be any further assistance, please call or e-mail. Thanks.

..to post it on the website.

Jack, we have a Salem/Hope Creek alleged who went public Sunday. she has requested that we 'post' her talk on the NRC website.

We are willing to put it into ADAMS, but would tend not to post it on our website. We might reconsider her request if we ever decide to create an NRC web page for NRC review of Salem/Hope Creek work environment. Then we could include NRC correspondence and presentation slides, PSEG correspondence and slides; and, I guess maybe, public correspondence.

Have you experienced any analogous situations and what has been your posture? Who in HQ has helped advise?

thanks.
