Gary W. Buckrop, ARSO	Dept of the Army Rock Island Arsenal	309-782-2969 FAX -0338

SUBJECT
Control No. 315594 – Regarding amendment request for License No. 12-00722-07 by letter dated July 18, 2006, to inform us that the name of the Army command managing this US Army license has changed from the US Army Field Support Command to the US Army Joint Munitions Command (JMC). It also requested that correspondence be sent to AMSJM-SF/Mr. Gary Buckrop, US Army Joint Munitions Command, 1 Rock Island Arsenal, Rock Island, Illinois 61299-6000 and that Mr. Buckrop be the point of contact for this license. It also noted that the office within JMC that manages this license remains the same and that RSO and Alternate remain unchanged.

SUMMARY
In a discussion of the above request with Mr. Buckrop on 9-11-2006 it was noted that the possession limit for Pm-147 specified on License No. 12-00722-07 was established many years ago and that Pm-147 has a relatively short half life, 2.62 years. Further, Mr. Buckrop confirmed that no new devices containing this radionuclide have been manufactured and put into use for many years and that a large percentage of the devices possessed have been recovered and properly disposed of. Therefore, the current possession limit listed on License No. 12-00722-07 for this radionuclide is far in excess of the licensee's current needs and triggers certain security related thresholds that may be unnecessary. Therefore Mr. Buckrop concurred to evaluate their current possession limit needs and to provide this evaluation as a basis for requesting a lower license possession limit for PM-147.

ACTION REQUIRED
Licensee to provide an evaluation for, and to request a lower license possession limit for Pm-147 and the license reviewer to modify amendment request for License No. 12-00722-07, based on information related above.

Gary W. Buckrop, ARSO	Dept of the Army Rock Island Arsenal	309-782-2969 FAX -0338

SUBJECT
Control Nos. 315594 and 315595— Regarding amendment request for License No. 12-00722-07 and License No. SUC-1380, respectively, by a single letter dated July 18, 2006, to inform us that the name of the Army command managing both of these US Army licenses has changed from the US Army Field Support Command to the US Army Joint Munitions Command (JMC). It also requested that correspondence be sent to AMSJM-SF/Mr. Gary Buckrop, US Army Joint Munitions Command, 1 Rock Island Arsenal, Rock Island, Illinois 61299-6000 and that Mr. Buckrop be the point of contact for both licenses. It also noted that the office within JMC that manages both licenses remains the same and that RSO and Alternate remain unchanged.

SUMMARY
In a discussion of the above request, Mr. Buckrop confirmed that these changes should also be reflected in the address in Item 2 of both licenses. We also discussed some minor differences in Items 1 and 2 (Licensee's name and mailing address, respectively) of the licenses. Mr. Buckrop confirmed that both licenses are managed by the same command and should have the same name/ mailing address. In this regard, Mr. Buckrop requested that the name and address on License No. 12-00722-07 be modified to be identical to the name and address shown on License No. SUC-1380, i.e., delete "Commander" from License Item 1 and add "HQ" at the beginning of License Item 2, for License No. 12-00722-07.

ACTION REQUIRED
License reviewer to modify amendment request for both licenses, based on information related above.
