Here are the Chapter 2 PDFs that I have thus far. I am going to email them in pieces, by discipline because the files are too large to send at once.

I am still missing:

Nalco. 2006. Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS) for Product H-550, Microbiocide. Available URL: <http://www.nalco.com> (request access)

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). 2006b. "Census of Agriculture, 2002. National Agricultural Statistics Service, Washington, D.C. Available URL: <http://www.nass.usda.gov/census/census97/vol1pubs.htm>

U.S. Department of Labor (DOL). 2006. "Local Area Unemployment Statistics." Bureau of Labor Statistics. Available URL: <ftp://ftp.bls.gov/pub/time.series.la/>

I probably won't be able to track these down until after the holidays. I will email them as soon as I get a hold of them.

CENSUS OF GOVERNMENTS

PURPOSE

To provide periodic and comprehensive statistics about governments and governmental activities. The United States Code, Title 13, requires this census and provides for voluntary responses.

COVERAGE

All state and local governments in the U.S. local governments include counties, cities, townships, special districts, and school districts.

CONTENT

Data are obtained on government organizations, finances, and employment. Organization data include location, type, and characteristics of local governments and officials. Finances and employment data are the same as in comparable annual surveys and include revenue, expenditure, debt, assets, employees, payroll, and benefits.

FREQUENCY

Government organization data and information are for March of the census base year (2002, 1997, and so forth). Financial data are for the individual fiscal year that ended prior to July 1 of the census year. Employment data are for March of the census year. Every five years since 1957, for years ending in "2" and "7" (part of the Census Bureau's periodic Economic Censuses). Reference periods for data vary by census phase.

METHODS

A three-phased state and local government data collection, supplemented by data from the Federal government. Phase one is a pre-census directory survey of the more than 87,000 local governments. It includes extensive legal research into government structure by state, as well as a mail-out/mail-back survey, and produces an updated list of all local governments and selected data.

Phase two covers all of the state and local governments, and expands the census year annual finance survey from about 14,000 to the more than 87,000 state and local governments. It uses in-house data compilations of source documents for many of the state and largest local governments, consolidated data submissions (usually electronic files) for about 55,000 local governments, Internet data collection capabilities, and a mail-out/mail-back survey of the remaining governments.

Phase three covers all of the Federal civilian, state and local governments and expands the census-year annual employment survey from about 10,000 to the more than 87,000 local governments. It relies on consolidated submissions from more than 30 state respondents, an Internet data collection capability, with the remainder obtained through a mail-out/mail-back survey.

PRODUCTS

Public releases include electronic files and Internet tables first, followed by printed reports. For the Organization phase, releases are available within 1 year of the census year. Printed format includes Volume 1. Government Organization.

Finance phase releases begin about 16 months after the close of the census year. They include files covering finances of state governments, local governments by type, and finances of individual government units. Internet tables cover state governments, state and local governments, and employee retirement systems of state and local governments. Printed releases include Finances of County Governments, Finances of Municipalities and Township Governments, Compendium of Government Finances, and Employee Retirement Systems of State and Local Governments.

Employment phase releases begin about 12 months after the census year. They include files covering employment and payroll of the Federal government (civilian only), state governments, state and local governments by state and type, and employment of all individual governments. Internet tables cover Federal employment, state employment, as well as state and local government employment by state. Printed releases include Employment of Major Local Governments, and Compendium of Public Employment.

USES

There are two primary users among Federal statistical agencies engaged in measuring the nation's economic and financial performance: the Bureau of Economic Analysis and the Federal Reserve Board. State and local governments use the data to develop programs and budgets, assess financial conditions, and perform comparative analyses. In addition, analysts, economists, market specialists, and researchers need these data to measure the changing characteristics of the government sector of the economy. Journalists report on, and teachers and students learn about, their government activities using our data. Internally, the Census Bureau uses these data as a benchmark for all of our non-census year samples.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Provides the only source of periodic information that identifies and describes all units of government in the U.S. and reflects the use of nationally consistent definitions and classifications.

Cheshire County Profile

Cheshire County is located in the Monadnock region of southwestern New Hampshire with a total area of over 736 square miles. With 19 square miles of inland waterways, 83% forested, the county remains relatively rural in character. The county population is 72,182 with the city of Keene (population 22,872) serving as the geographical and social-economic center of the county. The town of Swanzey (population 6,653) and Jaffrey (population 5,431) are the next largest communities in Cheshire. The remaining 52% of the population resides in relatively rural settings in the remaining 20 towns with populations ranging from 250 - 4,200. The split between those who were born in New Hampshire and those who have immigrated is about 50/50.

Cheshire County has a mix of rural villages, urban settings, forest and agricultural land, and numerous lakes and streams. The health and vigor of its diverse natural resources is an important attraction. While the economic base is industrial, business, and service oriented, tourism is very important to the area. Monadnock State Park in Jaffrey (location of Mount Monadnock, the most heavily climbed mountain in New England), the 13,000 acre Pisgah State Park in the southwest corner of the county, and Rhododendron State Park in Fitzwilliam are significant natural attractions to the area.

County Business Patterns

County Business Patterns is an annual series that provides subnational economic data by industry. The series is useful for studying the economic activity of small areas; analyzing economic changes over time; and as a benchmark for statistical series, surveys, and databases between economic censuses. Businesses use the data for analyzing market potential, measuring the effectiveness of sales and advertising programs, setting sales quotas, and developing budgets. Government agencies use the data for administration and planning.

County Business Patterns covers most of the country's economic activity. The series excludes data on self-employed individuals, employees of private households, railroad employees, agricultural production employees, and most government employees. The County Business Patterns program has tabulated on a North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) basis since 1998. Data for 1997 and earlier years are based on the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) System. For more information on the relationship between the two systems, see the Bridge Between NAICS and SIC.

This series has been published annually since 1964 and at irregular intervals dating back to 1946. The comparability of data over time may be affected by definitional changes in establishments, activity status, and industrial classifications.

Notes:

Help:

- Use the CTRL and/or Shift keys to select multiple areas and years. (In the Local Area Personal Income application multiple areas are not selectable; select one state and proceed from there, or select the "Single Line" option in Step 1.) Press Display to display your selection in HTML tables, and Download to download a comma-separated-value text file. If you select Download a "Save As" dialog box will appear. It is recommended that you specify an output filename with a CSV extension. Some users will have the option to open the downloaded file directly into a spreadsheet application.
- The greater the number of areas and years selected, the slower the request will be. A submission that requests too much information has the possibility of timing out. If you are displaying information, you will want to consider how large your table will be.
- To view county-level information first display a State.
- After displaying a table, you have the option to show one estimate for all counties and MSAs in that State by clicking on the line code next to the estimate.

Additional files

- REIS DVD — The local area estimates in the above tables also appear on the Regional Economic Information System (REIS) DVD, which is available for ordering. A downloadable package of REIS estimates and software is also available.
- Both Accelerated Metropolitan Statistical Area (AMSA) tables are available for download as one compressed archive file, AMSA.zip (1.8Mb)
- CA06 Compensation table for all states and counties is available for download as one compressed archive file, ca06.zip (13Mb)
- CA34—County and MSA total wage and salary disbursements, total wage employment, and average wage per job

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

A contract for reconstruction of the Creamery Covered Bridge was recently bid and has been awarded to Renaud Brothers Inc. of Vernon, Vermont. Funding is 95% State and Federal, and the project is to be overseen by the Vermont Agency of Transportation. Work includes replacement of the lower chords, the entire bridge deck and oak runners, and replacement of a portion of the lattice and other structural members if found in poor condition. The reconstructed bridge also receives a dry sprinkler and fire detection system. Creamery Bridge was last reconstructed in 1980.

Work is anticipated to start December 11 with a completion

About Monadnock Economic Development Corpor

Mission | Focus | History | Accomplishments

Our Mission

"Monadnock Economic Development Corporation leads the region in the enhancement of its industrial and business base to improve the standard of living, quality of life and economic vitality of our communities."

MEDC's Focus

Monadnock Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) is a private, not-for-profit regional development organization committed to the creation of jobs and the broadening of the tax base for the Southwest corner of New Hampshire referred to as the Monadnock Region. The Board of Directors and staff of MEDC concentrate their efforts on business retention, relocation, expansion, and recruitment projects, as well as downtown revitalization and rehabilitation projects.

In addition to its revolving loan fund, its USDA Rural Development Intermediary Re-lending Program and its network of financial institutions, MEDC has access to federal funds earmarked for economic development.

MEDC offices are at 39 Central Square, Keene, NH. Block. This building is one of several restoration projects undertaken by MEDC in downtown.

History of Monadnock Economic Development Corporation

The Monadnock Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) has a unique and successful history of incorporating Southwestern New Hampshire. In 1985, a need was identified to "centralize in one organization leadership of efforts to improve and revitalize...the health, vitality and environment of the industrial base of the Keene, the private, not-for-profit Keene Industrial Development Corporation (KIDC) was founded. KIDC initially derived from the City of Keene, the Keene Chamber of Commerce and the Keene Downtown Housing Corporation. the organization included:

- z To serve as a liaison between private and public bodies in coordinating and negotiating development
- z To assume a positive role in seeking out and discussing with present and potential property owners tenants those opportunities and plans for bringing together available programs, investment opportunities assistance programs as well as the necessary government cooperation with the objective of maintaining a strong and positive industrial base;
- z To assist the City Council and Select Boards throughout the Region in meeting their responsibilities strong industrial base;
- z To maintain a cooperative working relationship with the Planning Department, Planning boards and organizations in its development planning role.

Recognizing that Keene is at the economic center of the Monadnock Region, and that a vital downtown was prosperity, KIDC merged with Keene Downtown Revitalization Corporation in 1995 to form the Keene Economic and Revitalization Corporation. An additional objective was added to the original articles of incorporation:

- z To develop, promote, and maintain a vision for revitalization and development by preserving the traditional architecture, and appearance of downtown Keene and the Monadnock region.

In 1999, the name of the organization was changed to Monadnock Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) to reflect the corporation's mission "to lead the region in the enhancement of its industrial and business base to a standard of living, quality of life, and economic vitality of our communities." Currently, under the governance of a Board of Directors consisting of local business leaders and professionals, President John G. Dugan and the Board continue to innovatively meet the organization's objectives.

MEDC's Accomplishments

MEDC accomplishments include the development of Black Brook Industrial Park, with the creation of over 50,000 feet of new building space and hundreds of new jobs; the E.F. Lane Hotel, which entailed the purchase and renovation of the former Goodnow's Department Store into an upscale forty room hotel in downtown Keene; the renovation of the 100,000 square foot Beaver Mills Building into office space and senior housing; and the transformation of the Chamber of Commerce sheet metal and ply-wood covered vacant block into retail, office, and housing space in downtown Keene.

Additional examples of successful business expansion projects that have been assisted by MEDC through funding and MEDC's loan pool include: Hannah Grimes Marketplace, in Keene, Lertex in Walpole, Benson in Walpole, New England Wood Pellet in Jaffrey, Sunset Tool in Keene, Bagel Works in Keene, and Plum Park in Keene. An indirect benefit derived from these success stories is that MEDC's operations are now entirely funded by the revenue produced by these projects, as well as loan income.
