Holders of Operating Licenses
for Nuclear Power Reactors
Listed in Enclosure 1

SUBJECT: BRANCH CHIEF AND LICENSING PROJECT MANAGER REASSIGNMENTS

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has reorganized its Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation (NRR) to create an Office of New Reactors (NRO) to ensure effective oversight of operating nuclear power plants and prepare for the industry's interest in licensing and building new nuclear power plants in the near term. NRO has been established, and has full responsibility for licensing and program oversight on new reactor activities. NRR will retain full responsibility for licensing and program oversight for activities related to the current operating reactors.

As a result of the reorganization, there has been several changes in Branch Chiefs and Licensing Project Managers, within the Division of Operating Reactor Licensing, NRR. This letter is to inform and provide you with the names of the Branch Chief and the Licensing Project Manager for your facility, shown in enclosure 2. These changes will become effective on January 22, 2007. If you have any questions, please contact the applicable Branch Chief or Licensing Project Manager.
