Subject: Leadership Changes at Excelon Nuclear

Discussion:

Chris Crane, Exelon's Chief Nuclear Officer, has informed the NRC's Region III office about several changes in Exelon's executive leadership. These changes are effective beginning April 2, 2007.

Tom O'Neill, Licensing and Regulatory Affairs Vice President, will fill the new position of Vice President of New Plant Development, a position created to support Exelon's new plant efforts in Texas.

Keith Jury, Director of Licensing, will fill the position of Vice President of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs. According to Mr. Crane, Mr. Jury has more than 25 years of industry experience in the areas of Licensing, Regulatory Affairs, Maintenance, and Quality Assurance.

Glen Earl Chick, Vice President of Projects and Craft Labor, has been named to fill the position of Vice President of Outage Services, replacing Tyler Anthony, who will transition to a position in Energy Delivery.

Ralph Hunter, Director of Fuel Supply, will become the Vice President of Project Management. According to Mr. Crane, Mr. Hunter has experience with Westinghouse Electric in the area of Fuel Business Management.
