Subject: IAEA Equipment is showing a "Red Light "

Good afternoon;

The UZOO operator informed me by telephone that on Saturday morning (August 23) that one of the IAEA state-of-health lights turned Red. The IAEA equipment that is associated with this Red light is the enrichment monitor unit on the side of blend vessel #1. This IAEA state-of-health light was still Red yesterday, Sunday August 24, 2003.

The UZOO operator confirmed that none of the other pieces of IAEA state-of-health lights showed an alarm. Since only one of the IAEA enrichment monitors failed, the UZOO operator continued operations. This action is consistent with the IAEA message number 603033 dated May 5, 2003 (OB1/2003/067).

The UZOO operator is to provide a fax later today confirming the information they provided me by telephone on Saturday. I will promptly forward the UZOO fax to the IAEA upon receipt.

Sincerely,
Brian Horn
