Subject: Tracer Test Discussions

John,

I got your phone message about holding a discussion on the tracer test the week of January 22nd. I will be out of the country that week, but Alex will be available to represent the Department. I suspect that Tim will also be available. However, I believe that Entergy has proposed a start date for the tracer test injections on January 31. If this is correct, it may make sense to have the discussion early in the week, rather than later.
