

February 22, 2007

The Honorable David Price
United States House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Congressman Price:

As part of our workforce development effort, I am pleased to inform you that the U. S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) participated in the Duke-Yale Environmental Job Fair in Washington, DC, on February 2, 2007, in Washington, DC, as part of our workforce development effort. Approximately 250 alumni and current students representing the undergraduate, master, and doctoral programs from each university attended.

The NRC has aggressive hiring goals toward ensuring that we have the people and knowledge to meet our anticipated increased workload as well as to continue protecting the public and the environment. Therefore, we welcomed this opportunity to discuss potential career options with those attending the job fair.

If you have any questions about the NRC's involvement in this event or the agency's human capital efforts, please contact me at 301-415-1776. I will notify you of NRC's participation in future hiring events that are related to your district.

Sincerely,

/RA/

Rebecca L. Schmidt, Director
Office of Congressional Affairs
