RADIOACTIVE SOURCE LOST DURING SHIPMENT

On 11/30/98, the licensee shipped an Amersham model CDC.CY13 oil well logging source, containing a 2 Ci Cs-137 source (serial #2299GW), via Federal Express. The package was picked up in Houston, TX, and was to be transported to the north slope of Alaska. On 12/8/98, the licensee contacted FedEx to determine the location of the package, as it had not been received. On 12/15/98, Federal Express contacted the licensee and reported that the package could not be found. Federal Express stated that the package was tracked to a FedEx hub in Indianapolis, IN, but that no further tracking information was available. On 12/16/98, the licensee contacted the NRC Region IV office and reported the lost shipment.
