The answer is yes and some of the older designs are probably in use. I'm not sure of the newer ones but I suspect also there. I've got some older info in my office but its out-of-date Suggest you contact Ernie Hauser for good up-to-date info. If you don't have the phone number, its in the roladex on my desk - I'm at home today.

Warren,

I've been asked if we know if any licensee's are using the Caldon UFM for power recovery under 10 CFR 50.59. Do you know the answer to this?

Tom
