Looks good.

FYI - On Thursday (tomorrow) Union reps and Entergy are planning to discuss the contract. Union reps are reaching out today to the union members to understand why the member vote was no.

Please r/c ASAP

If you have any more information, add it in and I will do the editing here (there is a maximum number of lines per note).

Thanks,

DAILY STAFF NOTES

REGION I

August 22, 2007

Out of Scope

•

- On August 21, the members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 300, voted to reject the proposed contract with Vermont Yankee (Entergy). The next step is for the union to decide whether to again extended their contract, or to vote for a strike. The union has agreed to provide Entergy with a 72-hour notice if a decision to strike is reached. The contract covers Operations, Maintenance and Radiation Protection personnel. Region I is following the progress of the negotiations and is prepared to implement a 24-hour NRC watchbill if a strike occurs.
