Shieldalloy Hearing File E-mail Capture Presentation

Please use the following criteria when submitting e-mails to the electronic hearing file established for the administrative hearing on Shieldalloy's Decommissioning Plan (DP) and Environmental Report (ER).

1. What emails should be captured?

Any e-mail that is associated with the Staff's review of Shieldalloy's DP & ER.

2. Who is responsible for capturing the email?

Sender if a Review Team Member and a possessor of a NRC.gov email address

Recipient if Sender is either not a Review Team Member or the sender does not have a NRC email address

3. Who is a Review Team Member?

The following is a list of Review Team Members.

4. Who should capture the email when Sender is not part of Review Team but one or more of the recipients is.

All when the Sender is a NRC employee.

NRC point of contact when the sender is not a NRC employee, e.g., possibly NRC Project Manager.

If there is no point of contact, then the first individual on the "To" List who is a Review Team Member.

5. How should Emails be captured?

Emails are captured by forwarding the email to either the "Shieldalloy_Public_Emails" or "Shieldalloy_NonPublic_Emails"

6. How should Emails be classified?

They should be classified as "Public" or "Non-Public" and assigned to such folder. When in doubt, classify as Non-Public.

7. What types of Emails should be considered as “Public”?

Public emails are any e-mail (including attachments) originating in the public domain that does not contain proprietary information, as well as any e-mail consisting entirely of publicly available information. Examples include emails

- ▶ from the applicant, its vendors or contractors;
- ▶ to the applicant, its vendors or contractors from the NRC;
- ▶ to or from other Federal, State or Local agencies which are non-confidential;
- ▶ from the public when commenting on staff documents (e.g., comments on the DEIS); and
- ▶ to or from members of the public.

8. What types of Emails should be considered as “Non-Public”?

Non-Public emails are any e-mail (including attachments) containing safeguards or security-related information, privileged, proprietary, or sensitive information or data. Examples include emails

- ▶ between staff and OGC
- ▶ between NRC and other Federal, State, or Local agencies which are confidential;
- ▶ involving pre-decisional information, e.g.,
 - changes to documents
 - those incorporating staff decisions
 - those involving RAIs or the DEIS, DSER, EIS or SER.
 - those between staff and contractors
- ▶ All containing proprietary, personal privacy or other sensitive information.

9. When is clarifying Information is necessary?

If it is unclear from the subject line why email is being submitted..

10. What should you do when providing clarifying information?

Provide an explanation in the text of the forwarding e-mail explaining what sections of Shieldalloy's DP an e-mail relates to or which of the contentions it addresses.
