

The Enterprise DDMS was developed using a variety of Commercial Off The Shelf (COTS) products, COTS products with additional customization, contractor developed software, and one open source product. All of the information regarding installed software is found in documents that are designated as "Official Use Only – Sensitive Security Information" and include the Enterprise DDMS Software Engineering Notebook and Enterprise DDMS Operational Support Guide (FOIA Exemptions 2 and 4).

Below is a list of products/software used to develop the Enterprise DDMS.

COTS Only

Adobe Acrobat
Adobe Reader
Adobe Software Developers Toolkit
Crystal Reports 10.x
Microsoft Internet Explorer
Microsoft Internet Information Server
Microsoft SQL Server 2000
Microsoft Windows 2000 Advanced Server
Microsoft Windows 2000 Server Standard
Microsoft Windows 2003 R2 Advanced Server
Microsoft Windows 2003 R2 Server Standard
Microsoft Windows 2003 Server Standard
Microsoft Windows XP
Norton Symantec Anti-Virus
SSH Tectia
Symantec BackupExec
Symantec LiveState Recovery
Virage SmartEncoder
Virage Video Encoder
Virage VideoLogger
Windows Media Server

Customized COTS

Levare CenterCourt Calendaring
PlumTree Portal (Currently owned by BEA and renamed AquaLogic)
MediaEdge Transcript Viewer (Includes embedded Windows Media Player)
Plumtree Document Crawlers

Contractor Developed

Portlets for Plumtree Portal developed in ASP, ASP.Net, and VB.net

Open Source

Apache Tomcat

A-2