Cindi,

I'm waiting to get RII's comments, which Ken said I should receive this afternoon. Lucy has reviewed the package as it now stands. Depending on when I get RIII's comments, the package could go out for concurrence this afternoon, but more likely tomorrow morning.

Would you like to see it before it goes out for concurrence?

I was going to take a quick look, but it looks then like it's ready for a concurrence package?

Pls put the Communications people (i.e., Undine Shoop) on future emails re FENOC such as the revised Order. Need to keep her plugged into what is happening. Although she is EDO office, she is not in my group. I will also do my best to keep her plugged in.

also - I mentioned that the Order may go out Fri or Mon. Kane's response was that if fri or Mon, then it should be Mon. But if we need a few xtra days to review - - take the time. Monday is not cast in stone.
