Subject: Management Changes at Dresden Station

Discussion:

On December 14, 2007, Exelon announced that effective December 17, 2007, Dave Wozniak will assume the duties of Site Vice President at Dresden Station. He succeeds Danny Bost, who is leaving Exelon to pursue other interests. Mr. Wozniak has been the Plant Manager at Dresden since 2004 and served in a number of senior leadership roles within the Exelon Organization prior to moving to Dresden.

The current Engineering Director, Tim Hanley, will succeed Mr. Wozniack as the Dresden Plant Manager. Mr. Hanley was the Director of Midwest Operations Projects prior to becoming the Dresden Engineering Director last year. Joe Sipek will be the acting Engineering Director until further notice.
