Subject: Follow up to Georgia's Response to RCPD-07-009

To Chris Einbert,

This is a followup to our telephone conference call today with Tison Campbell and you. In addition to our response sent to RCPD-07-009, the state of Georgia is requesting more time to review this document with our Department of Natural Resources (DNR) legal department to determine how we can enforce the fingerprinting requirements. At this time, we are uncertain if this will require a legislative approval or a DNR Board approval. A legislative act is a more time consuming effort if required, and it is my understanding that the Agency has already submitted its agenda to the Georgia Legislature for the 2008 session. If our DNR legal department gives us permission to exercise this authority through a rule revision process or a legally binding statement, we may be able to comply with the Order by June 2008 time line. I have forwarded RCPD-07-009 to upper management and the legal department input.
