

7.9 Data Communication Systems

Data communication systems are an integral part of each instrumentation and controls (I&C) system and the I&C architecture as a whole. Therefore, data communication systems used in the U.S. EPR I&C design are described in Section 7.1 of this Chapter.