To all,

It has recently come to our attention that although the NEIL letter referenced a 757-page Exponent report, the actual Exponent report that was submitted to the NRC by FENOC was only about 660 pages.

During our followup review of this apparent difference, we were informed by FENOC that NEIL had incorrectly included an additional, separate report of about 100 pages in their 757 page count.

We have requested that FENOC provide us with this report by Friday, May 4th. We plan to review this additional report and ensure, at a minimum, that it is not part of the Exponent report and that the information in this additional report contains no safety concerns that have not already been addressed.

Eric.
