Subject: Public Availability of Exponent-Related Documents

To all,

The May 2, 2007 FENOC letter concerning their response to our April 2, 2007 letter as well as our acknowledgement of their May 2, 2007 letter is now publicly available in ADAMS.

However, if you attempt to download these letters directly from ADAMS you will not be successful.

Until the document is "batch-processed" (my words) tonight sometime after midnight, in order for the public to view the letters, access to ADAMS must be made through the Citrix program.

Fortunately, this program is available to the public to be downloaded free of charge from our NRC public website.

Eric.
