Subject: Radioactive Waste

I find it outrageous and extremely unwise for the U.S. to import radioactive nuclear waste from other countries to process! Don't we have enough of a problem trying to process and dispose of such waste generated right here in our country? What could possibly be the justification for this other than somebody making money? Is that worth the health and safety of our citizens? Please think through this decision carefully and do what is best for the American people: refuse to import any radioactive waste from abroad, and do all that is possible to reduce - not increase - the nuclear power industry's activities and installations in our own country. Thank you.
