May I as a human being to another, living in this sacred planet Earth, raise my deep concern with the decision of world government officials to choose nuclear power as a source of energy? Scientists's knowledge of nuclear power is still in its infancy. Profit is preventing innovative, safe methods of green technologies to be implemented. Dark undercurrent forces are pushing nuclear power as a choice to supplement the world's "hunger" for energy. They desire their own selfinterests to be served first, before the wellbeing of humanity, and the world. Scientists are still in the "dark ages" as to how to harness nuclear power in a safe manner. The disposal of radioactive nuclear waste is still extremely dangerous to people, and to the environment. Not long ago this radioactive waste was being dumped into tin barrels, and dropped into the bottom of the oceans without any consideration for marine life, and for our food chain. Over time corrosion was leaking this radioactive waste into the seawater. Our planet Earth is being treated as a "trash bin" by the corporate cartels without any regard for human life, and Mother Nature. An astounding number of people are suffering from cancer due to environmental pollution.

But there is a more pressing issue that needs to come to the surface in today's political arena. The politics of fear are behind in this political power game that must come to an end, before mankind obliterates all life on this planet. The proliferation of nuclear power is being used by rogue countries like Iran, North Korea, and China as a facade to develop Atomic Bombs. A pandora box has been released since the time that Einstein wrote his letter to president F.D. Roosevelt, recommending the production of Atom Bombs. After the holocaust of Hiroshima and Nagazaki he regretted sending the letter, but only after the devastation and horror it caused. Einstein was never one to have a strong conscience for he abandoned his own child to pursue his scientific career. He reflected the selfish Dr. Frankensteins's mindset that was prevalent then, as now in the scientific community. They believe themselves to be gods, but are nothing but arrogant fools, who will bring our civilization to an end. The result since then, has been an escalation into an arms race that is increasing fear in the world. We do not need to be fearful of other countries for they are as afraid of us as we are of them. We are all a global family bonded by the Universal Creator and by Mother Earth. According to the Universal Law of Cause and Effect: Whatever one projects into the world, runs its course, but it always returns to its point of origin. Atomic tests are still being conducted in secrecy under ground and under the oceans, poisoning water, land, and the atmosphere around the globe. This madness must be stopped immediately. How much longer is mankind going to persist on this road of destruction, and stupidity?

Every atom in Nature is interlaced in a net that spans the entire globe, whatever is inculcated on one part the whole of the planet suffers the ripples too. Therefore stop the recycling of nuclear waste that can never be safe from radioactivity. The USA is just poisoning its land, and its people. Stop seeking nuclear power while there are efficient solar technologies already in place [www.greentechmedia.com] waiting to be adopted by world, and corporate leaders.

Planet Earth is sacred; cherish it, and treat it with respect. Honour the responsibility that mankind has as guardians of this planet. Nature must be saved at all costs, regardless of the cost for the cost we will pay as people will be immense, tragic and senseless. The interests of the human race is interlinked with the wellbeing of Nature. Destroy Nature, and you destroy yourself.

Sincerely,

R. Silver
