

DOCKETED
USNRC

March 20, 2008 (4:11pm)

OFFICE OF SECRETARY
RULEMAKINGS AND
ADJUDICATIONS STAFFThe BLM in Pictures: Images from the Public Lands

Desolate and fragile, the convergence of three major bioregions—the Sierra Nevada Mountains, the Mojave Desert, and the Great Basin—has created a remarkable landscape in the Owens Valley in east-central California.

Dear Secretary

Please use your Authority to protect Utah and the Nation from the import of radioactive waste from Italy and other countries.

The capacity for storage in the US is small and the president of importing waste from other countries would fill our few sites quickly.

Peace, Kathy Vandamo

The Bureau of Land Management, an agency of the U.S. Department of the Interior, balances the development and preservation of natural and cultural resources on the 262 million surface acres of lands it holds in trust for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations. These lands are located mostly in 12 Western States, including Alaska.

www.blm.gov

LET US DARE TO THINK, SPEAK AND JOHN ADAMS, 1765
power of the elect

Secretary
US Nuclear Regulatory Commission
Washington DC
20553-0001

Attn: Rulemaking &
Adjudication Staff

Template=SECY-043

SECY-02