2. The description of the irradiation and QA programs previously provided in support of the application for Possession License does not contain any of the proprietary information contained in the application for Importation and Exempt Distribution. The information in the application is generic and may be made public as necessary.
6. Visitors to the facility will be infrequent (as there is no reason for foot traffic other than for delivery). The two inside doors, leading to the back storage area and to the work space (versus the reception area), will be posted with signs that indicate that "visitors are not permitted beyond these points without escort".
7. Copies of Lease and Insurance Binder are enclosed with this letter.
12. We will survey the work area and the exterior of the safe used for storage of stones, using the G.M. detector, on a daily basis. The surface(s) of the safe will be posted with a sign giving the survey date and the dose level. The work area will be surveyed when stones are taken from storage, to assess the dose at the worker's position, in front of the NaI(Tl) station. If doses in excess of 1mR/hr are noted at that spot, the quantity of stones will be reduced (returning some to storage) or some will be placed further away. During the workday, when stones are being tested, the work area will be swiped using pre-numbered swipes that have been ordered. One will look at the area directly around the detector, while a second swipe will look at the area where stones are located during the testing process. The swipes will be examined with the NaI(Tl) system, using long counts (~600 sec). Any evidence of contamination, other than stone fragments, will result in shutdown of the operation until the source of contamination is determined and removed.
13. Although the likelihood of a contamination event is extremely low, we have put into place a system for dealing with the possibility. The work area will be swiped daily, with the swipes counted on the NaI(Tl) system. Any evidence of contamination, i.e. isotope identification other than those encountered as fixed by-products inside the stones, would trigger a clean-up, consisting of the wearing of latex gloves to prevent spread, and wipe-down with 202 Decon Liquid, followed by new swipes and measurements. Once cleaned up, the waste would be stored in a separate poly bag, identified as reserved for radioactive waste, for eventual disposal, and hands would be cleaned using Decon foam. It does not appear that any situation that could be encountered in the operation would necessitate the use of any protective clothing other than latex gloves. The necessary materials for clean up have been ordered from Direct Scientific and will be delivered in the
