The reviewer spoke to KKH to determine the purpose of the name change, how it impacts their financial assurance program and their relationship with GE. In a letter dated March 25, 2008, it is explained that Reuter Stokes (RS) is a wholly owned subsidiary of the GE company and the name RS is the correct name. Also, the FA instrument is a parent company guarantee by the GE company and the name change does not impact the FA instrument at all. Finally, RS has already implemented the IC Order so the reviewer updated the IC Order license condition to include the fingerprinting order. KKH is already aware of the fingerprinting order and has taken action. Since this licensee has already implemented the order, there was no need to complete the security order checklist.
