Joe,

Thanks for the table update,

I understand there may be more added tomorrow. Will you also give me a metric on inputs received?

Phil,

Attached is a table with new items identified. Additional items will be added to the list. I have not found any items that I believe rise to the level that they would prevent docketing of the application. The new items fall into the category that may have schedule impacts but I doubt that they would rise to the level that they would be mentioned in the acceptance review.

Per my commitment, I will provide you with an inclusive list (to the best of my abilities) by COB tomorrow.

Joe
