Harriet,

Do you have a list of agencies and contacts that are involved on Tuesday meeting? Do we need to develop an agenda beforehand?

I need to talk with PNNL hydrologists on this issue as they are doing the review of the hydrology part.

Hosung,

Here's the e-mail I sent to the outside agencies that deal with ecology; feel free to use it to send to your contacts. Since hydrology overlaps so much, you might want to suggest to your contacts at your two agencies that they join us at the interagency meeting on Tuesday. FYI, based on some feedback I've received, I think we might end up moving it up to 8am to make sure we have enough time to talk about everything before lunch that day.

All,

Please find the attached audit schedule for the week of February 4, 2008. Please note that the applicant is trying to accommodate our large group size by providing several boat tours if needed due to the limited capacity of the boat. I think the Monday schedule is pretty set, but there could be flexibility in the Tuesday morning schedule. Tuesday morning would probably be an ideal time for NRC to meet with other state and Federal agencies in one group meeting for purposes of discussing ecological and hydrological issues. The schedule has such meeting listed at 10am on Tuesday (but we could start earlier if that's the group's preference, depending on who wants to take a boat tour that morning), which would allow you to attend the afternoon and/or evening scoping meeting if you choose.

Please let me or Paul Kallan (NRC project manager) know if you will be attending. Also, please let us know if you would like to participate in the agency-only meeting and, if so, which time works best for you.

Please let me know if you have any questions. I look forward to meeting you all.
