Hello,

I am a mother and educator for a very interesting county. The county we live in has an already high amount of cancers, birth defects and other illnesses. I would like to know where this site is going to be located and if the appointed city councilmen have been informed. The whole idea sounds like a monitory time bomb for the locals. Would the public have an oppotunity to voice at a public meeting? If this is going to effect future generations the public should know. Health care is at an all time high and the economy is so unstable right now. People have to make very rash choices in there lives. This type of activity would be devastating to a small community. I would appreciate a response.

Looking forward to hearing from you,
Ida Perry
