I am against the importing of nuclear waste from Italy.

I am a lifelong (37 years) resident of Utah, Love my state and want to keep it beautiful and w/o nuclear waste. especially from foreign soil.

I recall watching a news article on our local news station (KSL an NBC affiliate) and the article stated " the nuclear waste is low level and harmless " My response to this statement is; if it is so harmless then why go to the expense to ship it over to the states?

Another question I have is: what do other European countries do with their waste??

AND if Italy starts to ship their n waste here to Utah, then will other countries (european or otherwise) follow suit and ship theirs here too?

I am absolutely against the importing of nuclear waste to Utah. If we had nuclear facilities, then I would be ok with the disposal of that waste, however I do NOT want to see Utah become the worlds n waste dumping ground.

respectfully,
James Johnson
