Insert personal comments here: : Basically this is like another country making us their sewage receptacle. Hmmm....doesn't seem like a pleasant proposition.

When we are already concerned about where to put the nuclear waste we have and no state wants to take it. It doesn't seem like a wise move. Is it just another indication of the declining quality of life in this country that we would even consider this? It seems to me a healthy and prospering country would not turn to such schemes to make money.
