Dave,

For inspection reports and official documents transmitted to DCS/SAMS, are we to call the Certificate holder of CAMOX-001... Duke, Cogema, Stone and Webster (DCS) or Shaw AREVA MOX Services (SAMS) ? Page 45 of the LA submittal dated November 17, 2006, still says the consortium of Shaw Project Services Group, Inc., AREVA NC, Inc., and Stone & Webster, Inc., has formed a Limited Liability Company (LLC) called Duke Cogema Stone & Webster (DCS). Thanks.

Duke is no longer involved with the MFFF, however, they are still planning to use the fuel at Catawba and McGuire. Dave Tiktinsky can fill you in on all the details if you are interested.

When did the "Duke" fall out of DCS? Looking at the construction auth request and operating license request, Duke Project Services is changed to Shaw Project Services?? Are they still affiliated with Duke Energy?
