Dr. Halligan: thanks for checking with ABR and providing information to help expedite your request. I now have all the information I need to add you to the Providence Alaska Medical Center NRC license for 10 CFR 35.600 HDR work.

Mr. Montgomery,

I have checked with the ABR. The "AU Eligible" is only for people getting their initial certification after June 2007. According to the person I spoke with, they have no means or plans to go back and add to prior board certifications. Will you need anything else from me?

Mr. Montgomery,

I believe after reading the website information that the "AU eligible" appearing on the seal is for certificates after June 2007. My recertification was 2006 and my primary certification was 1996.

Mr.. Montgomery,

I am puzzled by your statement below about my NRC addition. I am ALREADY and authorized user by the NRC and have been so for 12 years! My ABR certification from way back in 1996 was adequate for my initially being an authorized user. I was recertified in 2006. I am not a junior staff just out of residency. Please explain this further to me and if this really is a requirement, how do I go about getting the ABR to add that statement to my certificate?

Mr. Ning: regarding your May 28, 2008 letter requesting an amendment to your NRC license no. 50-17838-01 to add an LDR Ir-192 source, please describe how the patient and device will be monitored during treatment to ensure that the sources and catheter guide tube are not disturbed during treatment and to provide for prompt detection of any operational problems with the LDR device during treatment.

Also, regarding your April 18, 2008, letter, we cannot add Dr. Halligan for 35.600 uses at this time. Although he is certified in Radiation Oncology by the ABR, his certificate does not contain the words "AU Eligible" about the ABR Seal. Please refer to the NRC web site at <http://www.nrc.gov/materials/miau/med-use-toolkit/spec-board-cert.html> for further information concerning this requirement.
