3) NRC REGULATORY ISSUE SUMMARY 2007-24 NRC STAFF POSITION ON USE OF THE WESTINGHOUSE CROSSFLOW ULTRASONIC FLOW METER FOR POWER UPRATE OR POWER RECOVERY [SUMMARY OF THE ISSUE: The NRC staff has suspended its approval of WEC's topical report on the CROSSFLOW UFM for new and future use until the staff's concerns are resolved. Accordingly, the staff will not approve any LARs for MUR power uprates using the CROSSFLOW UFM that rely on NRC's previous approval of WEC's topical report without additional justification that is acceptable to the staff. The staff will inform individual licensees that have submitted LARs for MUR power uprates using the CROSSFLOW UFM of the status of their submittals given that NRC's approval of WEC's topical report has been suspended. Additionally, licensees should no longer consider the topical report "approved by NRC for the intended application" under 10 CFR 50.59(a)(2)(ii) in future 10 CFR 50.59 evaluations of changes to support power recovery.] (b)(5)
