Sounds like they should. Paul, please take care of this. Or if you want me to do it, just let me know who I need to talk to and I'll take care of it.

Butch,

Paul has scheduled two conference calls for next week that cover technical areas for which I'm responsible. However, I and my PNNL counterpart will be on travel next week. Paul is on travel this week, and I don't think he's checking his e-mail remotely. I just wanted to let you know about this in case you think these calls should be rescheduled.
