should I make some calls to a few of the interested folks to see if they did file written comments? it would be sort of a loose qa check. it also may be the case that they feel that they got it all out at the meeting

Butch:

I am not worried that Paul did not obtain the correct emails from the STP mailbox. I am concerned that there were emails that did not make it into that box. I don't know how that could have happened, but the curiously small number of comments just makes me raise the question.

Paul,

Please let Eva and Nona know the process that you used to identify environmental scoping comments vs hearing issues.

Paul and Butch:

We finally have the scoping email comments for South Texas. Thanks!!

I am really concerned that there are only 5 emails. This just does not fit the model of what we have seen in the past and with the number of people that have attended the Scoping Meeting. I don't know what might have happened, because I am not familiar enough with the the NRC system, but I am really concerned that emails may have been misdirected and gone some where else. I am worried that it won't come to light until NRC issues the scoping report and people see that their comments are not addressed.

I hope you will look into this. I don't have a suggestion on how because I do not know the exact process.

Thanks

Eva
