Mike,

As we discussed in our telephone conversation earlier today, we are suspending our review of your application for the Antelope and JAB Uranium Project. You resubmitted the Technical Report (TR) for the application under cover letter dated February 24, 2009. One copy was sent to NRC document control for scanning and insertion into ADAMS and five copies were sent to me. The resubmittal was to correct inconsistencies among the several copies of the original TR.

The scanning was completed yesterday and the TR was put in ADAMS as non-public. My review of the TR identified that the copy sent to NRC document control contained an old version of Appendix A. The copies sent to me contain the current version of that appendix.

The document control center will scan the correct version of Appendix A and replace the old version in ADAMS. When the ADAMS package is completed and made public, we will ask you to review it and verify that it is the correct version of the TR. When we receive that verification from you, we will resume our review of your application.

If you have any questions, please contact me.
