Thanks Doug

I appreciate everyone pushing the schedule. Let's get a high quality report out as soon as we can. I think the current schedule is a good one.

I added a note in the project plan to consider getting back with HQ when incorporating comments into the report. I expect that we would only circle back to HQ if they have significant comments. If all the comments are administrative, I do not think we need to get back to them.

I will send out a revised project plan at the end of the day today.

With regards to getting the report out early, the due dates on the project plan are COB, so I don't think it's very likely to get out on the 21st per the current plan. The 22nd is a little more likely if nothing slips and HQ doesn't provide any show stopping comments.

In the action plan, do we need to get back with HQ was there comments are resolved? Do you think you could expedite the last three actions to have the report out by the 21st? or at least try for that?

Thanks
Marsha

Attached is the most recent revision of the project plan. Please discard other versions.

(I apologize for the multiple emails, I missed some comments in the last revision)
