Ms Barnes: What you have is exactly correct. I am sorry if our application for amendment was not clear.

The parent companies are Shenyang Blower Works (Group) and Harbin Electric Machinery Company, Limited.

The additions you show are consistent with our application.

~~The only correction I would request is that you change the address of Harbin Electric Machinery Company, Ltd from:~~
~~99 Sanddong Li Road~~

~~to:~~

~~99 Sanda dong Li Road~~

I realize that the former was in our original license, but that is not the correct spelling of the road they are located on. The correction would also make it consistent with the intermediate consignee added, Harbin Electric Machinery AC DC Motor Company Ltd.

Please advise if you have any further questions.

Thank you.

April 15, 2009

Good morning Raymond,

Thank you for your recent request to amend export license XR172.

However, I apologize for being somewhat confused as to how I will eventually need to prepare your license to amend XR172. I want to make sure I fully understand "exactly" which companies are the "parent" and which are subsidiaries thereof.

Please review the attachment that I prepared for your review. The first column reflects the Ultimate Consignees and Intermediate Consignees that are currently reflected on export license XR172. The second column reflects what actions Curtiss-Wright requests. The third column (hopefully) demonstrates how you would like your license to read.

Please let me know if I have interpreted your request correctly, or advise where I need to make changes.

Many thanks for your assistance.
