Stephanie,

I got your voice message from last night and, yes, I'll be the point of contact for discussions on how to improve/enhance communications. However, I will be out of the office Monday-Wednesday of next week (23-25 Jun); if you need to discuss details, including logistics for near-term discussions, please contact Richard Grumbir or Eddie Grant.

We indeed ran out of time on our conference call the other day before we had time to discuss the details of the letters that are scheduled to be submitted on Monday. However, the answers are consistent with what was discussed at the DCWG meeting last week, so hopefully there are no real surprises. Given the imminence of their due date, I'd like to go ahead and submit them, and if the responses are not to the Staff's liking, we can use them as good examples to tee up our upcoming discussions.

Incidentally, we had a protracted pre-RAI call today (on FSAR 3.11), and I think we spent more time getting clarification on both sides than we might have previously (Ravi was helpful in this regard). So I think the sensitization to ensuring we're communicating clearly on both sides is already showing. The discussion was somewhat tedious at times, but I think both sides ended up with a better understanding of the questions and likely answers.

Thanks.
