SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Introduction

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is issuing for public comment a draft guide in the agency's "Regulatory Guide" series. This series was developed to describe and make available to the public such information as methods that are acceptable to the NRC staff for implementing specific parts of the NRC's regulations, techniques that the staff uses in evaluating specific problems or postulated accidents, and data that the staff needs in its review of applications for permits and licenses.

The draft regulatory guide (DG) is temporarily identified by its task number, DG-2004, which should be mentioned in all related correspondence. DG-2004 is proposed Revision 2 of Regulatory Guide 2.6, dated March 1983. Title 10, of the Code of Federal Regulations, Section 50.34(b)(6)(v) (10 CFR 50.34(b)(6)(v)) requires that each application for a license to operate a facility include in a final safety analysis report, along with other information, the applicant's plans for coping with emergencies, including the items specified in Appendix E, “Emergency Planning and Preparedness for Production and Utilization Facilities” to 10 CFR Part 50, “Domestic Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities.” In addition, 10 CFR 50.54(q) requires licensees to follow and maintain in effect emergency plans that meet the requirements of Appendix E. This guide provides licensees and applicants with a method that the staff of the NRC considers acceptable for use in complying with the Commission’s regulations on the content of emergency plans for research and test reactors.
